Version: 1	Approval Date: 17 th September 2020 and 11 th November 2020	Author: Eva Casamitjana	Approved by: Core Scientific Committee and DirCom

1. OBJECTIVE

To determine the role and functions of ISGlobal Good Scientific Practice Committee (ISGlobal-GSPC).

2. SCOPE

This SOP applies to all ISGlobal members participating in that committee.

3. DEFINITIONS AND ABBREVIATIONS

- 3.1 CSC: Core Scientific Committee
- 3.2 ISGlobal-GSPC: ISGlobal Good Scientific Practice Committee

4. SOP DEVELOPMENT

4.1. Background

ISGlobal has adopted the PRBB Code of Good Scientific Practice¹ with Addendums approved on the 21st July 2016 (see Adoption of PRBB Code of Good Scientific Practice and addendums_vF).

The Code represents a set of recommendations and commitments governing scientific activities at ISGlobal, and it is monitored by the PRBB Group on Good Scientific Practices, which provides a multi-institutional environment.

In addition, ISGlobal has three representatives at the PRBB Good Scientific Practice Working Group, a cross-institute group whose aim is to actively share learning and good practice in scientific integrity amongst the PRBB institutes, to catalyse the development of cross-institute educational initiatives and to act as an independent support and resource for the PRBB institutes in cases of serious misconduct.

This ToR aims at establishing the appointment and functions of the ISGlobal Good Scientific Practice Committee (ISGlobal-GSPC) as the delegated Core Scientific Committee (CSC) body to promote research integrity and handle potential cases of research misconduct.

4.2. ISGlobal Good Scientific Practices Committee (ISGlobal-GSPC)

4.2.1. Membership

The ISGlobal-GSPC is composed of:

- The Scientific Director (chair)
- The 3 ISGlobal representatives within the PRBB Good Scientific Practices WG – one will act as secretary
- At least 2 senior researchers covering different areas of expertise
- The Clinical Quality Coordinator

The General Director will attend as an observer, at his discretion.

The ISGlobal-GSPC members are expected to attend and actively participate in the meetings. All committee members are individually committed to the values and objectives of the organization, to provide adequate time and energy to the duties of membership, to treat information provided and/or discussed at the meetings confidentially and to act with integrity avoiding or declaring
